

Smelly inside your car?

When did you last change your Air Conditioner Filter?

[Useful tips on Air Conditioner Filter]

Likewise your air conditioner at home, your car is equipped with an air conditioner filter. However, even people who clean their home air conditioner regularly tend to forget about their car air conditioner. Car air conditioner filters are much more likely to get dirty as it takes in the air outside while driving through town. That is why we recommend you to check and replace them regularly.
